Narrated by Liam Neeson, The Wildest Dream features Conrad Anker following in the footsteps of legendary Everest climber George Mallory

Bozeman, MT (November 25, 2009)—The Alex Lowe Charitable Foundation and National Geographic Entertainment present a special preview screening of The Wildest Dream, an Altitude Film, at 8pm on Sunday, December 20th at Bozeman's Ellen Theatre. Tickets go on sale Friday, November 27th at the Ellen Theatre box office or online at www.theellentheatre.com.

The Wildest Dream ~ George Mallory was obsessed with becoming the first person to conquer the untouched Mount Everest. Last seen 800 feet below the summit in 1924, the clouds rolled in and he disappeared into legend. His death stunned the world. 75 years later, climber Conrad Anker's life became intertwined with Mallory's after finding his frozen body with all his belongings intact. The only missing thing was a photograph of his wife, Ruth, which Mallory had promised to place on the summit. Haunted by Mallory's story, Conrad returned to Everest to unravel the mysteries surrounding his disappearance.

The Wildest Dream sets out to answer some of the fateful historical questions with archival video footage of Mallory and Andrew Irvine on Everest, love letters between Mallory and Ruth, and a bold attempt to reenact Mallory and Irvine's bid for the summit by modern-day climbers Conrad Anker and Leo Houlding. Narrated by Liam Neeson with featured voices of Natasha Richardson, Ralph Fiennes, Hugh Dancy and Alan Rickman.

All ticket proceeds for the film go to the ALCF Khumbu Climbing School project in Phortse, Nepal. The structure was designed by Montana State University School of Architecture students and includes classrooms, a library and a climbing training wall. The school will also serve as a community center and will be the first earthquake-safe, passive solar structure in the Khumbu region. Click here to read the students' blog.
