This includes any qualified expenditures incurred after the completion date of principal photography and before the end date of Montana post-production indicated on the approved MEDIA Act certification application.

A completed application and filing fee is due to the Department of Revenue when you begin the income tax return process. Production companies will receive information from the Montana Film Office with specific instructions and tax forms to claim the tax credits. This will include submitting the following forms to the Montana Department of Revenue:

- A Montana tax return on the appropriate form for your entity
- Film credit form provided by the Department of Revenue
- The production company must pay a fee of $500 for productions with a base investment of $350,000 or less, and $1000 for productions of more than $350,000 or for post-production.
- The tax credit claimed on the appropriate schedule for your entity.

Please note: Pass-through entities (partnerships, S corporations, and LLCs) must pass through the tax credit to its members, shareholders or partners based on the same proportion that is used to report their income or loss for state tax purposes. Initially the production company that incurred the qualifying employment and expenditures will file a Montana tax return to establish the amount of tax credit available for pass through. After this amount is established, each member, shareholder, or partner must file a Montana income tax return to claim their portion of the tax credit.

The production company can apply the tax credit against its Montana tax liability. Any remainder is available to carry forward for the four succeeding tax years. The production company may also transfer the credit to another party. A transfer fee will apply.
